[1]	Word/ Doctrine / Maxims of the Day:
	Ibid./ Ibidem : Ibid. is an abbreviation for the Latin word ibidem . It literally means 'in the same place'. commonly used in an endnote, footnote, bibliography citation, or scholarly reference to refer to the source cited in the preceding note or list item. This is similar to Idem, literally meaning "the same", abbreviated id., which is commonly used in legal citation.
[2]	Question (?) / Issue for Discussion of the Day: The 'Powers, Privileges and Immunities of Parliament and its Members' as envisaged in Article 105 of the Constitution leave room for a large number of uncodified and unenumerated privileges to continue. Assess the reasons for the absence of legal codification of the 'parliamentary privileges'. How can this problem be addressed?

[4] Memorable Case Laws:

(1) Mohini Jain Vs State of Karnataka (1992 AIR 1858): The fact of the case is that the Government of Karnataka issued a notification that permitted the private medical colleges in the State of Karnataka to charge exorbitant tuition fees from the students admitted other than the "Government seat quota". Miss Mohini Jain, a medical aspirant student filed a petition in Supreme Court challenging this notification. The Hon'ble Supreme Court of India raised an important question that "whether right to education is guaranteed to the Indian citizen under the Constitution of India?" The Supreme Court of India observed that mention of "life and personal liberty" in Article 21 of the Constitution automatically implies some other rights, those are necessary for the full development of the personality, though they are not enumerated in Part III of the Constitution. Education is one such factor responsible for overall development of an individual and therefore, right to education is integrated in Article 21 of the Constitution.

(2) Navtej Singh Johar v. Union of India (AIR 2018 SC 4321): The constitutional validity of Section 377 of the Indian Penal Code, 1860, as to consensual sexual behavior of adults of the same sex in private was the central issue of the case. Section 377, titled "Unnatural Offences," stated that "anyone who voluntarily has carnal intercourse with any man, woman, or animal against the order of nature shall be punished with life imprisonment or imprisonment of either description for a term of up to ten years, and shall also be liable to a fine. The five-judges Bench of the Hon'ble Supreme Court examined the constitutionality of Section 377 in light of the principles enunciated in Articles 14, 15, 19, and 21. Finally, Section 377 of the Indian Penal Code was unanimously repealed by the SC.
